

AFTER EFFECTS TEMPLATE INSTRUCTIONS

Business Report Intro

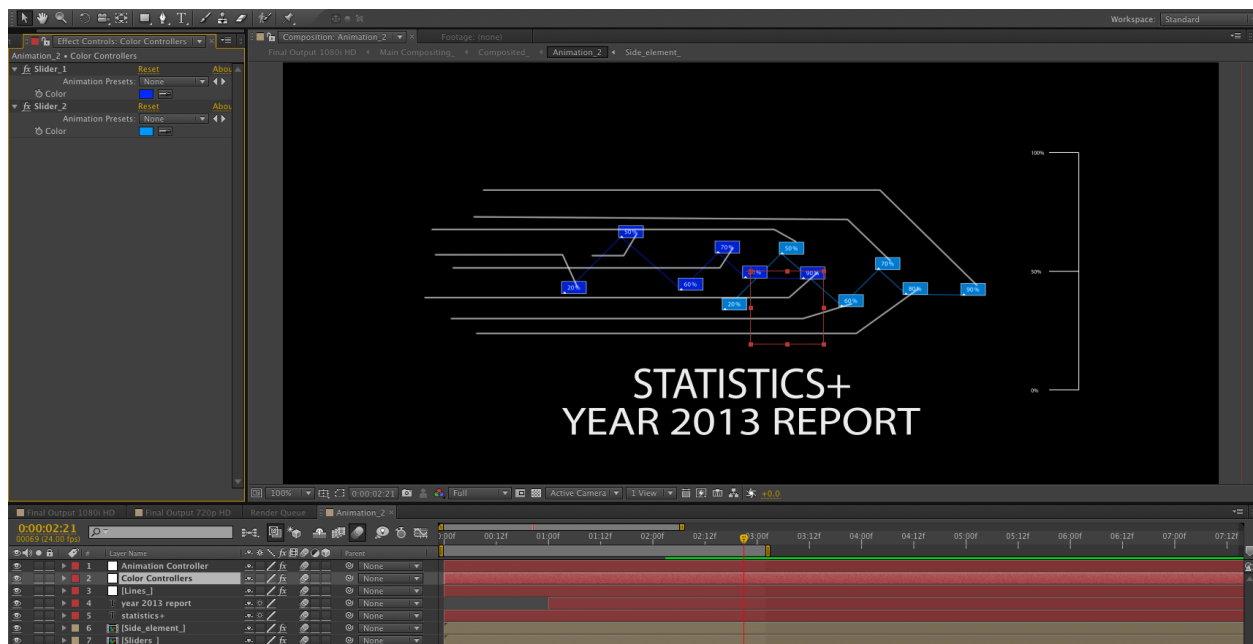

1. Extract all files from the .zip archive.
2. Open the After Effects project (the .aep file).
3. You'll notice a few folders in the Project window. To edit this template, drop down the "Animations" folder.

This folder contains each individual animation as well as the controllers for editing them. Open any "Animation" composition to edit it.

4. Highlight the “controller” layer and then open the Effects Controls panel to view the editable properties of the composition.

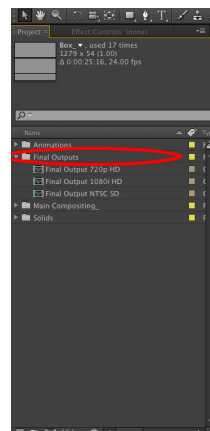

Here you can easily change properties of the composition, such as colors and graphics.

Note: Some compositions have multiple controller layers.

To edit Animation_9 and Animation_10, open the “Box” compositions.

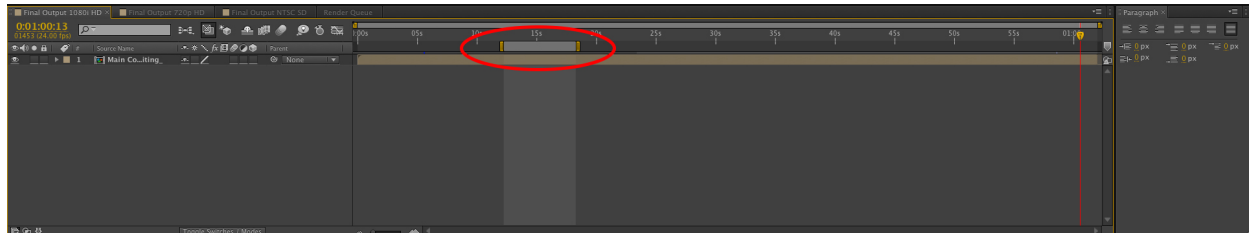

You are welcome to further customize any aspect of the template, including properties not contained within the Controller layers. However, while Video Blocks is happy to assist with technical issues and basic editing instruction, we are unable to provide in-depth one-on-one tutorials to teach users how to use After Effects.

5. Once you’ve finished editing the composition(s), you can export them in the format of your choice. In the Project window, drop down the folder called “Final Outputs” and choose from two HD compositions and one SD composition.

You can export the entire composition (which includes all individual animations in succession), or you can choose to export individual finalized animations.

6. To export an individual animation, move the handles of the Work Area bar to bookend the animation you want to export.

Then, go to Composition > Add to Render Queue in the menu bar. Choose your encoding settings and press “Render.”

If you experience any issues or have additional questions, please read through our After Effects FAQ. If you need further assistance, contact us at: support@videoblocks.com.