

Around the world, unknown to most of mankind, dwell the Duplicates, valiant men and women who took an oath of allegiance to shield humanity from evil and protect it from peril, even at the cost of their own lives.

Decades after the Great Cataclysm, Danny Hart heads out on a yearlong journey, seeking a meaningful future after his past and present are lost in a dark abyss of daily recurring amnesia. With no means of remembering what he learned yesterday in yeshivah or who he met last week, he is determined to find another way to serve his Creator.

Then – despite his mother, Helen’s, best efforts to protect him – Danny meets Maximillian, Keeper of the Illusions. And what Danny discovers is nothing like what he was seeking.
